

OVERVIEW OF ATLAS.ti MAC

Language English

Instructors

Ricardo B. Contreras, PhD, applied cultural anthropologist. Director of the ATLAS.ti Training Center. USA.

Type of course: Online through web-conferencing. 60 minutes.

Requirements: A high speed Internet connection and computer speakers.

Learning Objectives

- Participants will learn about licensing and training options.
- Participants will learn about the fundamental procedures involved in setting up a project, segmentation and coding, and analysis and outputs.

I. Introduction (5 minutes)

1. What does ATLAS.ti do?
2. What are the licensing and training options?

II. Demonstration (45-50 minutes)

1. Setting up the project: creating the project and importing and grouping the documents.
2. Data segmentation: creating and commenting quotations.
3. Coding: inductive and deductive procedures.
4. Analysis:
 - a. Visualization of linkages.
 - b. Word frequency count (Word Cruncher).
 - c. Co-occurrence tools.
 - d. Query Tool.
 - e. Code frequency count (Code-Document Table).
 - f. Memo writing.

III. Questions and Answers